

Save
the
Date

Friday
October 2nd

Building the Future We Want: Finding Opportunity in Adversity

A SOCIAL PLANNING TORONTO SYMPOSIUM

This symposium will bring together a broad range of individuals and organizations to explore the ways in which the current economic and social crisis may provide opportunities to rethink how government, the non-profit sector and business can renew our social safety net for the 21st century.

Keynote

Hon. Edward Broadbent, Former Leader, New Democratic Party of Canada, and Past Director, International Centre for Human Rights and Democratic Development

Speakers

John Cartwright, President, Toronto and York Region Labour Council

Don Drummond, Senior Vice President & Chief Economist, TD Bank

Marvyn Novick, Professor Emeritus, Ryerson University

Ratna Omidvar, President, Maytree Foundation

Armine Yalnizyan, Senior Economist, Canadian Centre for Policy Alternatives

Panels

Ending Poverty

Social Infrastructure

Good Jobs

Social Security & Economic Stabilizers

Details

Friday, October 2, 2009

9:00 am to 4:00 pm

New College, University of Toronto

$50.00 (includes lunch and refreshments)

More information & registration package to follow.

United Way

